Pleasant Grove, Utah- As of January 1, 2008, Alpine Plastics will be moving the majority of its manufacturing to Youngstown, Ohio. With this move the balusters which were previously being made in Denver, Colorado, will be made in the same warehouse as the rest of Alpines East Coast production. The products which will be moving are: 1 ¼ Colonial, Fluted, and Teardrop.

Philip Barker, President of Alpine Plastics reports, “Alpine Plastics is alive and well. Alpine Plastics has had another banner year in 2007, and are looking forward to a strong 2008 summer season. We are restructuring our manufacturing capabilities to better meet the needs of our customers. Sales on the East Coast and in the Midwest our increasing dramatically; with this move of the 1 ¼, Fluted and Teardrop balusters to our Youngstown, Ohio facility, we will be able to fill orders faster as well as cut down on shipping costs and time for our customers. Demand for our products has continued to increase in the past few years this move is essential to keeping our customers happy. We have also moved the baluster machine that was in Denver to Youngstown, Ohio. This move will enable us to have a dedicated machine for colonial balusters, our most popular baluster. With several baluster and porch post machines now in Youngstown Ohio, lead times will greatly diminish and order turn around time will continue to improve. We at Alpine Plastics are excited about this move and looking forward to a busy and prosperous 2008.”

Alpine Plastics will resume its Baluster of the Month program in March 2008. Their winter sale of all products 5% off will continue through the end of February.

Alpine Plastics offers sixteen different balusters, in varying lengths. The colonial is offered in five different widths, 1 ½, 1 ¼, 1 3/8, 7/8 x 1 ½, and the new 2”. They have a colonial baluster to fit every rail.

Besides being the original creator and producer of the Belly Baluster, Alpine Plastics is also home to the Colonial Family, which includes Colonial Balusters in 1 ¼”, 1 ¾”, 1 ½”, 1 ½ x 7/8”, the newly introduced 2” baluster, and a 5” x 5” Colonial Porch Post.

Alpine Plastics also manufactures the Classic, French, Teardrop, Traditional, and Fluted Balusters. They also are reintroducing the Jewel Baluster this spring.

Also offered from Alpine Plastics are the Gingerbread, Victorian, Twist, and Orleans Belly Balusters.
